

Call for participation in Una Europa Cultural Heritage Transnational Research Teams (TRTs)

- Would you like to take part in debates on cultural heritage with fellow researchers from all Una Europa universities?
- Would you like to exchange ideas on how to respond to European projects on cultural heritage?
- Would you like to help shape future heritage research programmes?

If so, we invite you to respond to the call for participation in one of Una Europa's four transnational research teams in the field of cultural heritage:

1. Heritage, global migration and mobility
2. Heritage and the digitization of society
3. Heritage and social capital, mutuality and volunteering
4. Safeguarding cultural heritage

Who can participate

All Una Europa researchers working on the topic of Cultural Heritage.

What does it involve

Bottom-up development and implementation of the research agenda and activities of a TRT, i.e.

- Presenting and discussing individual research with other researchers and Una-Her-Doc doctoral candidates during get-togethers
- Presenting research results in the blog posts
- Developing research projects and responding to open calls

Call to coordinate a TRT

Some of our themes are currently evolving, and there are several vacancies for TRT coordination, namely the TRTs

1. Heritage and the digitization of society
2. Heritage and social capital, mutuality and volunteering
3. Safeguarding cultural heritage

What does it involve leading a TRT

The TRTs are designed as forums for debate and exchange of ideas. Each TRT is academically steered by 3 academic coordinators from different Una Europa universities. They launch and manage activities enabling Una Europa researchers and doctoral students to meet up (online or hybrid). Since the TRT participation represents a mandatory part of the curriculum of Una Europa doctoral program in Cultural Heritage (Una-Her-Doc), at least 2 annual “get togethers” should be organized by each TRT, giving TRT researchers and Una-Her-Doc doctoral candidates a possibility to present their research.

TRT coordinators are assisted by one research assistant per team, from the Una-Her-Doc doctoral candidates (approx. 50 hours per year, remunerated by Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne university, leader for this activity). The research assistant is responsible for practical organization of TRT activities. The TRTs collaborate closely with the Una Europa Cultural Heritage Self-Steering Committee, in charge of the development and implementation of Una Europa Cultural Heritage strategy and action plan.

How to apply

If you are interested in participating or coordinating a TRT, please contact Professor Maria Gravari-Barbas, Una Europa Cultural Heritage Self-Steering Committee Chair (maria.gravari-barbas@wanadoo.fr) and University Research Isidora Stanković, Una Europa Cultural Heritage Self-Steering Committee Manager (Isidora.Stankovic@univ-paris1.fr), by May 15, 2024.

Documents to submit¹

For both TRTs participants & coordinators

- A short paragraph on how your research deals with the questions of the TRT you are interested in

For TRT coordinators

- A page explaining the activities you would like to develop in the framework of the TRT you are interested in

Find out more on Una Europa Cultural Heritage Transnational Research Teams on our website

¹ While it is possible to participate in several TRTs, the coordination is restricted to only one. If you are interested in several TRTs, please do send us the demanded documents for all of them, as well as order of TRT preferences for coordination.
