

Future UniLab

Una Europa

”There’s almost no reflection of how the university should look like in 10,20,30 years’ time and we need a space for that... The question is how do we make it possible to think outside the box on regular basis?”

Bartosz Brożek, Lead of Una Europa Future UniLab

The Una Europa Future UniLab is a space for:

STRATEGIC REFLECTION

INNOVATION

The Future UniLab serves as the Think Tank of Una Europa. Designed as a Living Laboratory, it aims to:

The Future UniLab will develop a new method for discussing the obstacles and opportunities European universities face when they join forces to “Europeanise” their activities.

Goals of the Future UniLab:

to rethink the role and functioning of universities

to develop innovative instruments to foster cooperation and creativity

to initiate and moderate discussion within Una Europa and beyond,
pertaining to all aspects of the university's mission

Unique methodology

The Future UniLab embodies a unique methodology which gives rise to innovative, out-of-the-box thinking and problem-solving.

We identify fundamental problems connected to the functioning of the universities and appoint visionary teams, consisting of creative specialists from within and outside of academia, to offer innovative solutions to the problems. These visionary ideas are translated into workable, scalable, and translatable formats by teams of designers.

Visionaries

The teams of visionaries will be appointed to work on particular issues. They will be given the freedom to dream and think truly out of the box.

Designers

The teams of designers, will consist mainly of professionals from the Una Europa partners and will be tasked with the crucial “reality check” for the dream scenarios.

Core Team

The core team coordinates the Future UniLab activities and acts as the main interlocutor for policy makers. It will play a central role in differentiating “fundamental questions” and “short-term problems” and defining the appropriate discussion forum, within the UniLab and beyond.

Meet our Core Team

The Future UniLab fundamental problems

The goal of the Future University Lab is to address fundamental problems pertaining to the future of universities. These problems may be divided into four different clusters:

Fundamental Problems

Values

1. Which core values should inform the University of the Future to avoid the binaries of the ivory tower and rigid managerialism?
2. How to re-conceptualize universities in order to capture their social and cultural role?
3. What is the essence of the European University of the Future?

Sustainability

1. How should universities take the lead in the search for a new balance between human society and the natural environment?
2. How can universities promote the well-being of employees and students and help them flourish?
3. How can universities become future-proof and resilient in an ever more rapidly changing world?

Integration

1. Is it reasonable to further integrate various dimensions of the university's mission, and how to do it?
2. How to facilitate mutual understanding and cooperation between various inter-university actors?
3. How to integrate the universities with their ecosystem - locally, nationally and internationally?

Instruments

1. How should the digital dimension of the university of the future be conceived?
2. What should be the management models of the university of the future?
3. How to develop a model of university's comprehensive and balanced communication?

Fundamental problems thoroughly analyzed and elaborated by the visionaries in the first round are:

What is the essence of the European University of the Future?

How to integrate the universities with their ecosystem - locally, nationally and internationally?

How can universities become future-proof and resilient in an ever more rapidly changing world?

How should the digital dimension of the university of the future be conceived?

Principles & Outputs

Visionaries are to tackle the fundamental problems in a novel way, pooling together the expertise and creativity of the team members.

Out-of-the-box thinking:

Disregarding the (potential) legal and financial barriers as well as existing approaches to the problem.

No imposed structure or strict rules of procedure.

Output:

Envisioning reports: (re)statement of the problem, solution or alternative solutions, and an outline of the proposed implementation process.
